LARGEST SAILING VESSEL MEETS DOOM

And it is Believed That the Entire Crew Perished
---Several Bodies Recovered by Heroic Crews of Life Boats---Oil Placed Upon the Swells, Failed to Save the Ship.

London, Dec. 14.—The seven-masted schooner, Thomas W. Lawson, the largest sailing vessel and only seven-masted in the world, was lost early today off Sicily Island to the southwest of the English coast. One survivor and three corpses have been picked up. Captain Dow and the rest of the crew undoubtedly perished. The Lawson, which was chartered to the Standard Oil company, and carried a large crew, was bound from Philadelphia to London. Driven out of her course by a terrific storm, she anchored last night off the island, Captain Dow, evidently fearing she would otherwise drive on the reefs. Two lifeboats put off to her assistance, but the captain said he preferred to stick to his ship and the crew stood by him. Watchers ashore saw the Lawson's lights until 3 a. m., when they suddenly vanished. At dawn the ship was seen floating bottom upward in the oily sea. It is supposed the cables parted and the captain tried oiling the waves, but that the storm was too heavy to be weathered and that the craft finally turned turtle. Several members of the crew were seen on Annet Island, an uninhabited rock. The lifeboats crew, sent to the rescue found three of the men already dead and a fourth nearly dead. The gale is steadily increasing in violence, and strewing the British coast with wreckage. It is feared the total loss of life will be large. All lifeboats are at work.

GREAT NEW YORK TIED UP BY STORM

New York, Dec. 14.—A storm is raging all along the Atlantic coast. The entire east will catch it before long. In the north it's snow, to the southward it's rain. New York got snow first, then sleet, finally rain. The gale is working steadily to the northward and increasing in strength today. All kinds of interurban traffic in Greater New York is in bad shape. Six inches of slush covers the sidewalks. Coasting craft are generally running for shelter. There seems good prospects of loss at sea before the day is over.

BARK STRANDED OFF SANDY HOOK

New York, Dec. 14.—Late this afternoon a line was sent aboard the stranded bark Edmund Phinney, off Sandy Hook and a breeches buoy was rigged. Three men have been brought ashore. The sailors are in bad shape from exposure.

CUTTER CAPSIZES SEVEN MEN DROWN

Sherman, Eng., Dec. 14.—A naval cutter was capsized in the harbor by the gale today and seven men were drowned. Hang Out the Flags. All business houses are asked to display the flag on Monday, December 16 in honor of the sailing of "our fleet" to the Pacific coast.

CHICAGO IN BLIZZARD'S GRIP MANY FIRES AND ACCIDENTS INCIDENT TO THE STORM

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Chicago is today in the grip of a blizzard. A series of accidents, fires and robberies incidental to the storm were reported between midnight and daylight. Telephone and telegraph wires broke, and crippled many electric lines.

Trains on the elevated and surface car lines were blocked during the morning hours. Fires, ranging in loss from the $100.00 bottling works at Cook's brewery, to small blazes in tenement houses, kept the horses of the fire department plowing through snow all night.

RICH HARVESTS

West Teeming With Wealth—Big Crops, Good Prices Baffle Wail of Pessimism.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Texas produced this year over 200 million dollars in cotton and cotton products, 100 millions in corn, 120 millions in live stock, etc., and over 80 millions of miscellaneous agricultural products.

First-hand evidence, carrying the greatest meed of reassurance to the business and private interests of the United States, presents conclusive testimony that the nation is fairly well along in the amount and value of its land products.

Realizing that the temperature of the nation could best be ascertained by going directly to the farmers and stock raisers for information, C. E. Erwin, president of the advertising agency of Lord & Thomas, entered into correspondence with the leading publishers and editors of the agricultural papers over the country.

From East and West, North and South, the most optimistic and healthy reports have come back. Not a publisher or editor sent in a gloomy response to the request of Mr. Erwin, and a rapid survey of the collated reports of actual crop conditions shows that the actual prosperity of the nation is really remarkable.

ing. Cheering reports from Minnesota utterly contradict prior reports. Kentucky gives optimistic results while crops in South Dakota show an increase in value over 1906 of $15,000,000. Wisconsin, Iowa, Ohio, Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois, in fact all of the great states of the middle west produce figures showing conclusive evidence of prosperity and the reports should make every farmer, every business man, every good citizen smile.

BUTCHER DISEMBOWELED.

Kent Dec. 14.—John Bauman, 50, of Brentfield, was disemboweled while butchering. A hog which he was trying to kill by sticking it in the throat, ran between his legs, throwing him forward on a knife. His abdomen was cut open and death came instantly.

TWO PAIRS OF BROTHERS ARE SITTING IN THE SAME JURY

Zanesville, Dec. 14.—There is a unique feature in connection with the jury that is sitting in the trial of the damage suit of Stockdale vs. Murdock, started in Judge W. H. Johnson's court Friday afternoon.

It is very seldom that brothers are found on the same jury, in fact, court officials state they cannot remember of ever seeing even one pair of brothers on a jury in the local courts. As a result the appearance of not only a pair of brothers, but two pairs on the jury above mentioned created considerable interest among the court attaches Friday. The brothers are William and Fred Vogt and Charles and Thomas Dutro.

SHEEP STAMPEDE THOUSANDS DROWN

Entiat, Wash., Dec. 11.—A flock of sheep, numbering nearly 11,000, was drowned in Mad river Thursday.

The sheep were being driven from the Cascade mountains to the Entiat valley to winter. While the flock was carefully going down the mountain side the leader slipped on the steep covered round and rolled over a precipice into the river below.

This demoralized the rest of the flock, and before the men in charge could control them several thousand sheep had slipped or plunged into the river.

FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH WAS NOT UNLUCKY TO THESE CONVICTS

Columbus, Dec. 14.—The unlucky Friday-13, combination was not such an unlucky one for prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary. It was almost "get-away" day for ten men left the institution. Six were paroled by the board of managers one was pardoned by the governor, and three one year men were discharged by reason of expiration of sentence. The last three were Edward Berkeley of Logan county, in for assault to kill; Frank Ward, Mahoning larceny, and William Slagle, Mahoning burglary.

MANSLAUGHTER

With a Recommendation of Clemency Was Verdict of Jury in Rush Trial at Zanesville.

Zanesville, Dec. 14.—"Guilty, with a recommendation of clemency," was the verdict of the jury in the case of Howard Rush, charged with manslaughter in connection with the shooting of Herman Johnson. The jury reported at 7:45 o'clock Friday evening, after deliberating for three and one-half hours.

Rush was found guilty on a charge of second degree murder at the first trial of the case, three years ago, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. After spending almost three years in the big prison the circuit court set the verdict aside several weeks ago, and ordered him returned to this county for a new trial.

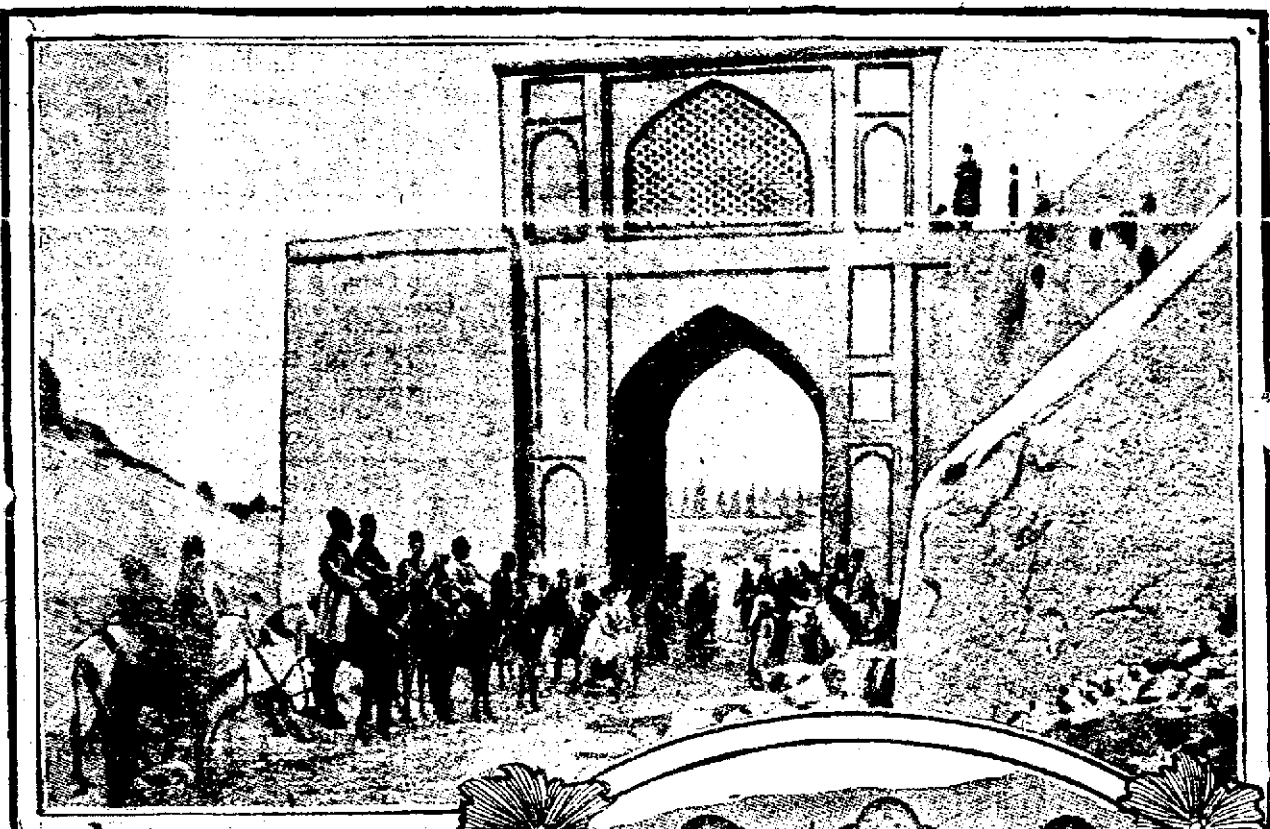

Prosecutor Power had the charge of first degree murder against Rush nulled and placed a manslaughter charge against him for his second trial.

The maximum penalty for manslaughter is 20 years, but with the recommendation for clemency by the jury, the sentence will probably be much lighter. During his three years' incarceration in the penitentiary Rush has been a model prisoner, and this will doubtless have some effect towards mitigating his sentence.

The defendant will probably be brought before the court to be sentenced within the next day or two.

LOVING CUP IS PRESENTED TO ROOSEVELT

Washington, Dec. 14.—President Roosevelt was presented this afternoon with a loving cup from the Mayor of Manila by First Lieutenant Van Schaick of the Fourth infantry, who was the special bearer of the gift. The cup is of silver and gold, made of native ore, and stands one foot in height. The cup combined a tribute from the natives of the Philippine Islands and the American officers there.

J. B. JONES' CONDITION IS VERY CRITICAL

Hon. J. B. Jones, who sustained a stroke of paralysis Friday, affecting his entire left side, is reported as being no better and his friends are very apprehensive of the outcome. His son, Roger, who is a student in the University of Chicago, returned home Friday night. He was recognized by his father, who reached out with his right hand and patted him on the face.

Teheran, Dec. 14.—Ala Dowlek's appointment as Governor of Shiraz created great disturbances in the province. The British Charge d'Affairs, has entered a protest with the Persian government and demands that it immediately restore order and banish the five leaders of the disorder.

Shiraz is the capital of the Province of Fars and has about twenty thousand population.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR CHILD'S KIDNAPERS HAS BEEN SUGGESTED

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Captain O'Brien of the detective department today made plans with State's Attorney Healey to demand life imprisonment for Wm. Birmingham and his wife, the couple of kidnapers captured yesterday with 8 year old Lillian Wulf in their possession. Their demand was based on the confession of Birmingham that his motive in stealing the child was to make her a "white slave." Birmingham and his wife gave the name of Jones when arrested.

ROBBERS DITCHED MAIL TRAIN THEN THREW EIGHT BOMBS AMONG THE PASSENGERS

Tiflis, Trans-Caucasia, Dec. 11.—A band of sixty robbers ditched the Tiflis-Baku mail train near Salakli last night, threw eight bombs among the struggling passengers and opened fire with their revolvers. Train guards returned the volley with their rifles, and after the fight drove the outlaws off. Many passengers and guards were wounded. Troops are pursuing the robbers, who carried off their wounded with them.

SECTION MEN FOUND BABE THAT HAD BEEN THROWN OFF A PANHANDLE TRAIN NEAR COSHOCTON.

Coshocton, O., Dec. 14.—While working along the right-of-way of the Pennsylvania tracks near Isleta shortly after noon Friday, a gang of section men were horrified to come upon the body of an infant lying at the trackside. It was huddled in its wrappings and showed plainly that it had been thrown from a passenger train, the men believed it was No. 19, going west about noon.

The men took the body up and brought it to Isleta, from there calling Prosecutor McDowell at Coshocton. They stated to the prosecutor that evidently it was a Pittsburgh child, as it had on clothes with a Pittsburgh mark upon them and part of its wrappings were Pittsburgh News papers.

The body was still warm and was apparently alive, when thrown from the train today to every postmaster in the United States. "Hereafter, and until months old. Mr. McDowell at once, on January 1, 1908, postmasters are communicated with Officer Doney and directed to deliver all the letters arrive at their respective postoffices, addressed plainly and unmistakably to Santa Claus, to any regularly organized charitable society in the city or town of the address, to be used exclusively for philanthropic purposes. In the event that a claim should be made by more than one such society for letters so addressed, such letters will be equally divided according to number, between or among the societies making such claim."

NOT ROBBERY WAS MOTIVE OF MURDERER

WHO KILLED WEALTHY NEW JERSEY UNDERTAKER THIS WEEK.

SEARCHING FOR LETTERS

That Compromised a Third Party Supposed to be in Dead Man's Possession.

Orange, N. J., Dec. 14.—A man suspected of murdering Frederick R. Romer, the well-to-do undertaker, who was beaten to death with a bludgeon or hammer in his roof at the Park hotel here, some time between 3 and 4 a. m., Friday, is under surveillance.

While the police hunt has practically narrowed down to a single suspect they are delaying an arrest in the hope that a few days' freedom may lead Romer's slayer to betray himself, furnishing evidence on which a conviction may reasonably be expected.

The detectives believe Romer was the victim in a second Burdick case; that the man who killed him did not intend to take his life; that he went to the undertaker's hotel room to look for letters comprising to the third persons, failed to find them, concluded that they were in Romer's pocket, awaited his return, undertook a search of his clothes after he had retired and murdered him when surprised at this task.

That robbery was not the object of the crime seems proven by the fact that Romer's watch and $84 in cash were left in his pockets, though the $350 diamond ring, which he usually wore, was missing from his finger when his body was found.

FEDERAL TROOPS ARE TO REMAIN AT GOLDFIELD

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 14.—General Funston has announced that federal troops will remain here at least until the commission named by President Roosevelt to investigate the conditions can arrive. President McKinnon of the miners' union has a long interview with Funston after which he stated that Funston would probably order the troops withdrawn in the near future. The action of the mine owners in reducing wages is having its effect on nearly all branches of labor in Goldfield, and it is believed many sympathetic strikes will result.

AGED FARMER FELL AND BROKE HIS HIP

Peper Walters, an aged resident of Hanover township, who is over 70 years old, had the misfortune to fall at his home Saturday morning and break his hip. The injury will probably disable him for the remainder of his life.

MAKES BLOOD PURE.

Valuable Prescription To Make Home Remedy, Said To Be Very Fine and Harmless.

A leading health journal, in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood," prints in a recent issue the following: Fluid Extract of Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

It cleans the blood of all impurities and nourishes the blood. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Kargon and Extract Dandelion works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

This prescription is better than the usual patent medicines, which are in the most part alcoholic concoctions. The ingredients cost but little and are easily mixed at home. Every man and woman here should make some up and try it if they feel their system requires a good blood medicine and tonic.

Marsh, Jacquart, Prof. Woodward.

READY FOR PARTY BUT DIDN'T GO

Telephone Operator Gave Wrong Number and Similarity of Names Caused Confusion.

A guest who was expected at a recent afternoon affair in this city, failed to appear and one who expected to be present was not there—all on account of a pretty telephone girl's mistake. It happened this way.

The hostess in arranging for the occasion wanted to invite a newly arrived resident but the formality of "calling" had not been carried out, so she phoned to a mutual friend and suggested that she bring Mrs. H. as her guest to the party. The name of the new resident wasn't in the telephone directory, so the information operator was asked for the number,

Proper, or as it happened improper, connection having been made, a conversation something after this fashion took place:

"Good morning, is this Mrs. H.?"
"Yes."
"I am Mrs. X. and I want to ask you to be my guest at Mrs. Y's reception Wednesday afternoon."

"Thank you very much, I'll be delighted to go. Lovely morning, isn't it?" etc., etc., etc.

The day for the event came around and Mrs. X. had the carriage stop at the home of her friend. The "lady of the house" herself responded to the ring and with some surprise, Mrs. X. noticed that she was not gowned in customary party dress and inquired "Aren't you ready?"

"Ready, my dear? Ready for what?"
"Why, you know I phoned you the other day about Mrs. Y's party and you said you'd go with me."
"There must be some mistake. I received no message and this is the first intimation I have had of the affair."

It was then too late to dress and Mrs. X. had to proceed alone while somewhere in Newark another Mrs. H., a Mrs. H. unknown to Mrs. X. was sitting gowned in her prettiest afternoon costume wondering why Mrs. X. didn't come for her. She found out the next day. And now they are probably blaming the hello girl for it. The idea!

ULRICH SENTENCED

Bryan, O., Dec. 14.—Isaac Ulrich, a wealthy farmer, was today sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for arson. He confessed he and Jack Page burned a granary and mill in Mill Creek township, after Ulrich had hauled away a large amount of clover seed.

YOUR LUNGS

ARE THEY WEAK OR PAINFUL?

Do you spit yellow and black matter?
Do you continually coughing and hacking?
Do you have night sweats?

Do your lungs ever bleed?
Have you pain in chest and sides?
Do you have pains under your shoulder blades?

THESE ARE REGARDED SYMPTOMS OF LUNG TROUBLE AND CONSUMPTION

You should take immediate steps to check the progress of these troubles. The more you allow them to advance and develop, the more deep seated and serious your condition becomes.

We Stand Ready To Prove To You

Absolutely, that Lung-Germine, the German Treatment, is a safe, effective and permanent cure for all cases of Lung Trouble, Consumption, Catarrh of the Lungs, Catarrh of the Bronchial Tubes, and all other lung troubles. Many sufferers who had lost all hope and who had given up by this means have been permanently cured. It is a cure for Consumption (but a preventable cure). If you have not yet tried Lung-Germine, you are not yet cured. You can prevent its development, and you can build up your lungs and system as well as strengthen your body. I was cured. I am healthy and able to work again. Lung-Germine has cured advanced Consumption, I can repeat over four years ago, and the patients I am going and in special health today.

Here is Evidence from One Case:

Under date of Mar. 11, 1907, T. Wilson Schmitt, 121 Columbia St., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I have now nearly four years since my cure of Consumption was made complete by your Lung-Germine, and I am happy to say that I remain as well and strong today as the day I was cured. I am healthy and able to work again."

We will gladly send you further proof of many other remarkable cures, also a FREE TRIAL of Lung-Germine, together with a full book on the treatment and cure of Consumption and Lung Trouble.

We all belonged to one party this morning.—Middle-of-the-Roaders.

It's easy to find Santa Claus' headquarters' this year. Consult The Advocate advertisements.

The wicked may have been able to stand in the slippery place this morning, but we saw a great many good people fall.

Admiral Evans' big fleet is ready to start from Hampton Roads next Monday for the Pacific ocean. When will the ships return?

More people doubtless read President Roosevelt's message of December 11 than that addressed to congress a few days ago. It didn't take so long but, nevertheless, it created a lot more talk.

The Peninsular & Orient Steamship company is said to have been crowded out of business at Bombay by the Japanese. Now England may have something to say about the yellow peril.

The Pittsburg Dispatch thinks that Senator Knox is the logical candidate to succeed Theodore Roosevelt and it comes right out and says so. The trouble is this impression seems to be confined principally to Pennsylvania.

The person who cannot be suited in the Newark stores at this holiday season must, indeed, be hard to please. The stocks were never better and the prudent people are buying more instead of waiting until the last day in the afternoon before Christmas. A good plan is to read this paper and jot down a few suggestions while looking over the advertisements. It will simplify shopping and save wear on your "grey matter."

ORCHESTRA IN VAUDEVILLE.

It is remarkable how an orchestra improves a vaudeville entertainment.

A song cannot be properly accompanied before an audience without it.

The regular house orchestra of eight pieces will play at the Auditorium this evening during the vaudeville performance. An impression has gained ground that owing to the ridiculously low price of admission, the popular orchestra would be dispensed with. But this is not the case. And never was an orchestra more noticeable than this afternoon in their accompaniment of those German artists Fuchs and Smith, in their laughable shipwreck and their songs. The act is one long scream. Walter Clarke made a great hit as did Carl the contortionist. Miss Winslow's songs were exceptionally good, while the Pathe motion pictures were a revelation, and there are many of them, both comical and serious.

"WAY DOWN EAST."

Has it ever occurred to you what a visit to the New Hampshire hills would mean? A visit to childhood days away back yonder. There are, no doubt, many in this city who would be pleased to make the trip among the hills of that staid old bur-

WHITE'S DESCRIPTION OF HELL.

A whirling and rumbling of hideous noises; the flashing of lightning and the strong, roaring peals of thunder, the sight of some poor unfortunate struggling against the demons of hell incarnate, behold the demon-like forms that belch forth the curses of damnation. Mephisto—"My good Doctor, look, see: all this you shall feel and more; you shall know what it is to mock the pure and innocent; to give the soul into my keeping. I, Satan, whom all the universe fear and tremble. Of for the soul of one wise man to show on judgment day—though I gather fools and my work is never done." With this, night grows darker; the storm rages the demons gather in mid-night revelry and curse the immaculate angel—the Virgin Mary; and is his bidding from the throne of torment. Then there comes a lull, and all roars forth in a wreathing mass of fire with enchanting hideousness, and the curtain falls to hide from view the remorse of the lost souls.

The above fully explains one of the many scenes in Porter J. White's famous "Faust," to be seen here on Christmas day, afternoon and night, at the Auditorium.

ORPHUM THEATRE.

The amateurs proved to be a great success last night, being nine in number, the largest of the season.

The show for next week is as follows: Cora Swain and her cokedoes, the only act of its kind in the world. The Brady's comedy sketch, "Out on a Limb."

Fox & Fox in an up-side-down comedy sketch.

Kipper, the comedy cartoonist, the illustrated song, and latest motion pictures.

Tonight's performances will wind up the good bill of this week. If you have not already witnessed it don't miss it tonight.

The accompanying act is that of the Three Beatties, making their last appearance tonight. Seats on sale at boxoffice.

Cataract and Deafness.

Mrs. E. D. Lawson, Navasota, Tex., writes:

"It is with great pleasure that I write to tell you that my little daughter is entirely cured of cataract and deafness and is in better health than she has been for the past two years. Peruna is truly a great medicine and I cannot say too much in praise of it. It has done for my little girl what doctors have failed to do. She has taken not quite three bottles."

If the practical women of the world who use family medicines, were asked which is the most reliable family medicine in use today, a great majority of them would reply, without hesitation, Peruna.

Peruna is especially praised by the women because they have abundant opportunity to note its prompt effects in relieving the various ills to which the family is liable.

Coughs, colds, indigestion, colic, kidney and bladder trouble, nervous weakness, loss of appetite, irregular circulation—all these and many other ailments dependent upon the exigencies of climate are promptly relieved by Peruna.

Peruna has been prescribed for the family by Dr. Hartman for over forty years. It has become a standard medicine throughout the greater part of the civilized world.

MISS BEULAH BROOME

Weak Lungs and Catarrh.

Miss Beulah B. Broome, 409 12th St., N. E., Washington, D. C., writes: "I have suffered from weak lungs and catarrhal troubles for four years brought on by many neglected colds, but on the recommendation of a friend I gave Peruna an honest trial and I am pleased to state that it restored me to perfect health. There is not the slightest trace of catarrh in my system and my lungs are perfectly sound. I unhesitatingly give this testimonial."

Cataract of the Worst Form.

Mrs. Amanda Long, 7237 Seeley Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I believe that I am cured of cataract of the worst form and of long standing. I was almost a total wreck. I tried almost everything, and doctored with a number of doctors, but they did me no good. I tried Peruna as a last resort, and by the time I had taken one bottle I could see that it was helping me, so I continued taking it. I can now say I have not felt the slightest symptoms for three months, and I think there is nothing like Peruna. I cannot praise it too highly."

Headache and Neuralgia.

Mrs. M. Kliner, 2648 E. 36 street, S. E., Cleveland, Ohio, writes: "I am enjoying good health since I have taken your medicine. I had suffered for a good many years previous to taking Peruna, and ever since I can say I do not know what headache or what neuralgia is."

HAVE YOU TRIED AJAX?

Ajax is the name of a cold cure that cures—a cure that does all that is claimed for it, and it claims a good deal, too. It cures a new cold within an hour and an old one after five or six doses. That's a strong claim, but local druggists say that it is without doubt the best cold cure compounded. An Akron man discovered it and in their practice. They say it breaks up the worst cases of pneumonia. It's a good plan to keep Ajax in the house. It sells for twenty-five cents.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

BASEBALL DIRECTORS CHOSEN AT BIG MEETING HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

Everybody Enthusiastic for Forthcoming Season and We are Promised a Fast Team—Number of Addresses Were Made—New Directors Organize.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Newark Baseball company was held in the mayor's office Friday evening and if enthusiasm and number in point of attendance count for anything this city is going to have one of the best teams in the business next season.

There were present A. A. Stasel, H. P. Scott, S. K. Hayes, Geo. Bader, Earl Murphy, C. Johns, O. A. Vogel, Major M. M. Gillett, W. Mahom, C. C. McGruder, C. L. V. Holtz, Wm. Von Aschen, F. T. Maurath, Charles

W. B. HOPKINS.
The Efficient Secretary Receives
Compliments on Well-Kept Books.

Smith, George Fromholtz, Dr. I. N. Palmer, P. Cherry, E. J. Koss, Harry Roedel, W. B. Hopkins, T. V. Rutledge, P. C. Snyder, Ada Frank, Dr. A. G. Speer, Fred Gleichauf, James Mills, C. B. Boggs, J. L. Benner, Ned Sherburne and C. E. Lynn.

Harry Roedel was chosen president of the meeting and W. B. Hopkins secretary. The first business transacted was the reading of the secretary's report and that of the auditing committee, which recently finished auditing the books of the company.

The report showed that the past season had been a successful one for the company, that they were out of debt, had a neat balance left in the treasury and besides had money due them from the sale of Pearce and $500 due from President Morton which is held as a guarantee. There is no doubt whatever that this city is the only one in the league which made money. It is a well known fact that several of the clubs lost something over $5,000 and the good fortune of Newark only demonstrates what good, prudent business management can accomplish. The report of Secretary Hopkins was adopted and E. J. Koss, a member of the auditing committee, made a few remarks praising Mr. Hopkins' work and the manner in which he kept his accounts, stating that everything was kept in such a manner that the committee had no trouble in their work. His address was highly complimentary and reflected great credit on Mr. Hopkins' ability.

Five directors were next elected to serve the ensuing year, and the following were chosen: A. A. Stasel, Harry Roedel, Frank Maurath, T. V. Rutledge and E. J. Koss. The election of these gentlemen, all of whom are known to be hustlers, insures Newark good fast ball for the coming season. They are all enthusiastic fans, and will see to it that this city is represented by one of the best teams in the league. All have had considerable experience in the baseball line and the game is not new to them by any means.

A number of remarks were made by several of the stockholders, all of whom are enthusiastic and all of whom wish the directors to try and secure a team which will be the equal to that of last season. President Stasel gave a sort talk along the lines of what they expect to accomplish the coming year. He said that he was not in a position to state just where the Newark club would land, but that we surely would be found in a good fast league. He was of the opinion that a redistricting plan would be agreed upon that would be satisfactory to all the clubs.

A vote of thanks was next tendered the management and players for the excellent showing and success during the past season, after which the meeting adjourned.

After the stockholders' meeting had adjourned the newly-elected officers met in the office of City Auditor Maurath and organized as follows:

President—A. A. Stasel.
Vice President—Harry Roedel.
Business Manager—Frank Maurath.
Secretary and Treasurer—W. B. Hopkins.

M'MANUS DENIES CHARGE OF THEFT

MAKES STATEMENT AS TO HIS WHEREABOUTS ON NIGHT OF ROBBERY.

Ulysses G. McManus who was arrested in Columbus two days ago and charged with the robbery of the B. & O. ticket office here, was brought to Newark last night by Detective Foreman of the B. & O. railroad, and locked up in the city prison. When searched McManus had $28.50 in his pocket. He was arraigned this morning in police court before Mayor McCleery, and when asked as to whether he was guilty or not, he replied, "Not guilty." His bail was fixed at $500 and his trial was set for next Monday at 2 o'clock. Being unable to furnish bond he was taken to the county jail.

The police reporter of the Advocate visited McManus in his cell this morning and asked him if he cared to make a statement as to his whereabouts on the night of the robbery. He replied that he went to bed at 7 o'clock that night as he wanted to catch B. & O. 105 from his city to get back to Columbus, and wanted a few hours' sleep. The railroad operators work an eight hour shift and as his was the third shift he would go to work at midnight. He knew he would be late, but said that a friend would work until he arrived. At this time he had not resigned his position with the Big Four.

He claims he can produce witnesses at the proper time who will testify as to his conduct and whereabouts on the night when he is supposed to have "lifted" the $110 belonging to the B. & O. His resigning his position has no special significance, as he moves around from one place to another as he grew tired of remaining in one town for any length of time.

"I can go back to any place I ever worked," he said, "because I never did anything to keep me away. It's hard lines to be in a place like this when a fellow is innocent." He is a well built fellow, with dark curly hair, and is quick to make friends. "When the proper time comes I can prove my innocence," he declared as the reporter left the cell room.

Harry Bleyer who was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Elizabeth Buckner, charging him with representing himself as her agent and obtaining money from Squire Lake under false pretenses, was given his hearing in mayor's court yesterday afternoon and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $100.

Mrs. Iden was born in Licking county, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Farmer, formerly of Hanover township. She was married to Mr. James Iden about 46 years ago. From this union three children were born, of whom one son, Isaac Iden, is living. One granddaughter, Miss Lillian Iden, and one brother, Samuel Farmer, who lives on the old home place in Hopewell township, survive her. The funeral will be held Sunday morning. The cortege will leave the house at 10 a. m., Sunday, and services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Barker at the Brushy Fork church, and the interment will be made in the adjoining cemetery.

SEARS LECTURE

Drew Large and Appreciative Audience at Y. M. C. A., Friday Night.

Dr. Sears lecture at the Y. M. C. A. last night on "More Tally and Less Talk," drew a full house, and no talker has ever come to Newark and left a better plea on audience. No one can hear him and not broaden his face. His humor, as well as his philosophy, is never lost, and he carried his audience along with him on both moral planes or common-sense laughter of will.

He is the great apostle of "the word." He advocates saying the good things to our neighbors while they live and not wait until they are dead.

Dr. Sears has come and gone, but the effect of his lecture will remain long. Every body praises him highly, and he is wanted back again next year.

MAYOR'S VETO

WILL BE PUT UPON THE ORDINANCE INCREASING FIREMEN'S SALARY.

This Ordinance Can Be Passed Over the Chief Executive's Veto By the Council.

It has been rumored that Mayor McCleery would veto the Firemen's ordinance recently passed by the city council and which provides for a $10 per month increase for the chief, $5 per month for the assistant chief, $10 per month increase for three captains, and the same increase for five drivers and an increase of $10 each per month for twelve firemen.

The original ordinance was introduced by Councilman S. H. Beadle at a meeting held November 11, and was rules. It did not provide for an increase for Chief Bausch and was not signed and at the next meeting held November 18, a new ordinance was introduced and given its first reading which gave the chief an increase, the balance of the ordinance being the same as the one passed at the previous meeting. On December 2 it was given its second reading and was passed under a suspension of the rules, all the members of council voting for it.

An Advocate representative called upon Mayor McCleery Saturday morning and asked him if it were true that he intended to veto the ordinance, and was informed that such was his intention. He stated that he appreciated the good work of the department but objected to the increase because the present tax levy did not anticipate a raise in the firemen's salary, and the funds were inadequate to provide for same. Dr. McCleery stated that the Board of Public Safety have a surplus on hand sufficient to pay for the increase for a year but the money might be needed for unforeseen exigencies.

A second reason advanced by the mayor for his veto is the fact that there is a discrimination in favor of the fire department against that of the police department. Mayor McCleery does not think that the firemen should receive a greater salary than the policemen, advancing for his reason that the latter have just as hard service and wear out considerable more clothing than the firemen.

The veto is now in the hands of Clerk Munch and will be acted upon next Monday evening at a regular meeting of council.

AUTOMOBILE STRUCK BOY

And He Was Knocked Down, But Not Badly Hurt—A Narrow Escape.

Friday evening about 5:30 o'clock, Thomas Cramer, a messenger for the Postal Telegraph company, was run over by an automobile belonging to J. J. Carroll, and driven by his colored chauffeur.

The driver had just came up Third street and was making the turn in front of the City Drug store to pull up in front of the Carroll store. Young Cramer was on his bicycle when the machine hit him, knocking him down, the front wheel passing over him and being stopped with the rear wheel resting on the young lad's leg. The machine was lifted off, the boy and he was carried into the City Drug store and Dr. C. E. Evans made an examination finding that no bones were broken but the leg was badly bruised. His injuries were dressed and a little later he was able to leave for his home on North Fourth street.

Saturday morning young Cramer, who is about 16 years of age, was up and around and beyond feeling a little stiff, was apparently all right. However, he had a narrow escape and can congratulate himself that his injuries are not more severe.

A STATEMENT

Failure Last Sunday Explained by the Local Y. M. C. A. Authorities.

The Y. M. C. A. authorities wish to exonerate Mr. Paul C. Martin for the failure of his appearance last Sunday. The error was due to the fact that the date of Mr. Martin's address was never finally arranged for by the local committee. A letter mentioning the date was dictated to a stenographer along with a number of other letters, but it seems that this letter of Mr. Martin must have been overlooked. Mr. Martin has consented to come for an address Sunday, January 5. He is remembered with pleasure by those who heard him several years ago, and the mistake is deeply regretted.

PROF. F. B. PEARSON

Will Deliver Noted Address on "Job," Sunday Afternoon at Men's Meeting.

The book of Job is considered by scholars and all students of literature as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, book ever written. Both as literature and as a picture of human nature it is unsurpassed. The real purpose and perfection, however, is missed by the ordinary reader. Prof. Pearson has put a large amount of research into his study of this book, and has made a great reputation on this address. Rev. Jones says of this lecture: "It is one of the greatest presentations of this wonderful book I have ever heard."

Mr. Raymond Cripps, baritone, will sing. Meeting begins at 5:15 p. m., Sunday afternoon, December 15. All men welcome.

EARLY CONVENTION

May Be Called to Settle Ohio Presidential Contest.

SOME OF THE COMPLICATIONS

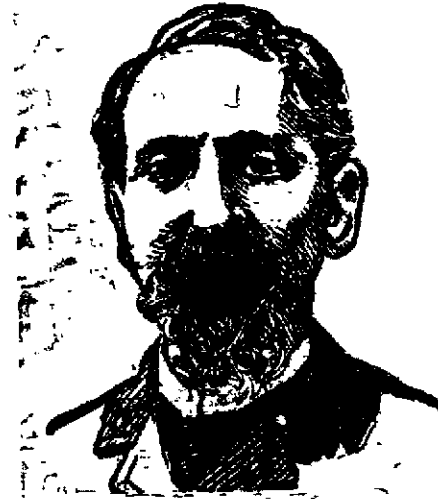

Practically Certain That Delegates to State Republican Convention Will Be Selected by Primaries—Governor Harris Favors Making Haste Slowly. Bunch of Seekers For Treasurer. State Affairs.

Columbus, O., Dec. 14.—In an indirect way Governor Harris balked the plan for holding the Ohio Republican convention in February.

The governor is one of the original Taft men, but there are other things to consider besides the presidential situation, prominent among which is the selection of a candidate for governor. There are beside, for the first time in the history of the state, nominations to be made for the entire roster of the state's elective officers.

Next year the state ticket will be the longest ever selected at one convention, and it is questioned whether all those who desire to seek nominations for minor places on the ticket would be able to get their claims before the people in time for a convention early in February.

Mr. Vorys, commander-in-chief of the Taft forces, is to meet Mr. Taft in Washington Dec. 18, when the secretary returns there from his trip to the orient, and as the state committee endorsed Mr. Taft for president by a vote of 15 to 6 it is almost certain that whatever date is decided upon as most acceptable to the Taft forces will be sanctioned by the committee.

One thing is certain, however, the state committee is not likely to be convened until after the holidays. As the primary plan for selecting delegates to the state convention, as requested by Senator Foraker, is also favored by the Taft forces, it will most likely be provided for, and so much time will be required to give due formal notice and organize a primary campaign that it is a safe guess that the convention will be called for the latter part of February or early in March, most likely the latter.

Some talk was heard favoring an early convention to endorse a candidate for president and select the delegates and alternates at large, then adjourn to a later date for naming the state ticket. With the presidential question out of the way the strongest hold on the convention for the nomination of state candidates would be dissipated by delay, and for that reason neither side is expected to be willing to take chances on losing that advantage, so that when the convention assembles it is more than likely that it will go through with the whole program.

An early convention will necessitate early action by the county committees. In some of the counties the county tickets will be chosen at the same time delegates to the state convention are selected, which is another reason that will be advanced for having the date of the state convention set back as far as possible. Few county committees will have the means to have two primaries, one to select delegates to the state convention and one later to nominate the county candidates. In counties where the primary plan is followed to select delegates to a county convention, which in turn will select delegates to the state convention and nominate the local ticket, the county convention may meet early to select the state delegates and adjourn to a later date for the local nominations.

Of course this inconvenience can be obviated by holding two primaries, which is allowable under the Bronson primary election law, but in a number of the rural counties the expense is a potential objection to a double primary.

District conventions are not complicated by the details which naturally enter into the scope of the state convention. The congressional committees can proceed under the call of the national Republican committee to arrange for congressional conventions by whatever plan is most acceptable to each district. The district committees may arrange for the selection of congressional delegates by primary or by convention, and may provide for the selection of delegates to the national convention by one method and the nomination of a candidate for congress by another method. Congressional committees will naturally desire that where delegates are selected by primary delegates to the state convention and delegates to the congressional convention be selected at the same time, and the state committee must take this detail into its calculations.

Another cause for haste is the uncertainty as to what the state legislature may do in the matter of a new primary election law. As the legislature can not pass a retroactive law the state committee will find it advantageous to have the call issued for the state convention before any primary law can be enacted to disarrange its plans. This same question will arise in the nomination of congressional candidates, so that unless the committees make haste in getting their conventions called the state legislature may upset their plans completely.

It is yet too early to forecast what action the state Democratic committee will take toward holding the state convention, the national committee having just selected Denver for the national convention July 7. The state committee is not expected to meet until after the state Republican committee meets, and it is quite probable that the Democratic convention will follow the Republican convention.

The same complications which enter into the Republican computation will also affect the Democratic organization if the legislature enacts a primary law that will go into effect before its conventions are provided for.

John C. Rosser, auditor of Shelby county, will try for the Republican nomination for state treasurer. He first had his eye on the state auditorship, where a warm contest is on between Fullington and Corman, present deputies in the state auditor's office, but he changed his mind and will seek the way to the treasury. There are several other candidates for the same nomination, among them John H. Morgan, present state inspector of shops and factories. Charles Green of Columbiana county, who has been a deputy in the state treasury several years; Senator Kinsman of Trumbull county, and Wm. Kirtley, Jr., at present a member of the state board of public works.

Candidates for the senatorial endorsement are coming forward. First was General Grosvenor of Athens, with his record of 20 years in the lower house of congress. After him came General Keifer of Springfield, once speaker of the lower house of congress and now a member of that body. Now also the name of Harry M. Daugherty is being mentioned in the same connection. And the list is expected to grow. There was talk at one time recently of having the state central committee eliminate the senatorial contest from the convention call, but as the committee is the creature of the Dayton convention, which explicitly provided for the senatorial question being submitted to the convention next year according to precedent, it does not appear just how the committee will be able to disregard its instructions.

Governor Harris endeavored to have the finance committees of the legislature visit the state's institutions before the beginning of the coming session to make up the budget for the ensuing two years, and thereby gain from two weeks to a month in the work of the coming session. Members of the committees met with the governor and went over the estimates set out in the annual reports, but on account of the holiday season they decided to defer visiting the institutions until after the session begins, if at all. Unless the legislature is reorganized the committees will stand as they are, and profiting by their experience of the former session neither committee will find it so difficult to shape up the appropriation bills. There is considerable discussion over the reorganization question, but no definite conclusion is expected before the legislature settles it for itself.

Cleveland society women affiliated with the various women's clubs have decided to form a lobby to work at the coming session of the legislature for the abolition of the death penalty. The women will support Senator Schmidt in the effort to have Brand Whitlock's bill on this subject passed. The senator at the last session presented a bill abolishing the penalty, but the amendments tacked on it displeased him, and he will support the Toledo mayor's bill. "Capital punishment is no more than legalized murder," said Miss Stella Jacobs, one of the women prominent in the movement. She and other prominent society women in the council declare they will appear on the floor of the legislature to force a change in the laws.

Two suits filed by the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad against the Ohio railroad commission, to enjoin the enforcement of new car distribution rules in the coal mining districts, were dismissed in common pleas court here. The controversy was later taken to the United States court at Cincinnati, and then presented to the interstate commerce commission, where a ruling was secured, similar to the state order, that is now being observed. The federal cases have been dismissed and the dismissal in the local courts releases records of the railroad commission, which have been on file with the court.

The State fair for 1908 will be held during the week beginning Aug. 31. It will not open Labor day, as was the rule the past two years. Last year Ohio and Michigan held their fairs the same week. This time the Michigan fair will follow the week after Ohio and Indiana the week after Michigan.

Mr. William Dollar, Good Citizen.

In a certain western town lives a gentleman whose name is William Dollar. They call him Dollar Bill when they get funny. But Mr. Dollar is a dignified, enterprising, good citizen.

Not every Dollar Bill is a good citizen. Many of them are prone to ignore the claims of their own community and run away to a big city to be spent. Many millions of Dollar Bills have left the smaller towns for the overgrown cities this present year of our Lord.

How many Dollar Bills have gone out of THIS TOWN—left home and gone to some big city, never to return?

Every time a Dollar Bill leaves town it takes a two-cent stamp with it, for it goes to a Mail Order Store. That helps the postmaster a little, but it doesn't help the local merchant. It means just so much less trade for him.

Which means just so much less cash circulating in this community. Which means just so much more social and business stagnation. Which means the stunting of the town's growth just to that extent.

If you could figure up the Dollar Bills that leave town in this secret manner, like taking French leave—which you can't—you would know just how much the town is stunted by indulgence in this mail order stunt.

If these Dollar Bills were really good and enterprising citizens they would stay at home and circulate around, helping things along.

How many of YOUR Dollar Bills take the midnight express out of town on the Envelope Route?

PRICE OF BEER IS RAISED A DOLLAR

New York, Dec. 14.—After January 1 beer will cost one dollar more a barrel in New York than it does now. This announcement has been made by the larger beer brewers' board of trade. A like increase has been made by New Jersey brewers. The reason for the increase is given as the higher price of raw materials.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT LIVER TROUBLE.

A dull sluggish liver always brings a dull sluggish feeling to the entire body. When the liver works properly, the blood courses through the body in a bright red stream. When the liver is inactive, the blood becomes dull and muddy, and is full of poisonous matter. A great many people try to get a fine, clear, pink and white complexion by rubbing things on their faces. They might rub a life time, and the same yellow complexion would remain—for the liver causes it. Only bright, red blood, brings fine complexions. Blood loaded with impurities from the liver sends the impurities out through the pores of the skin, and turns the skin a brownish yellow.

WARN TOBACCO GROWERS.

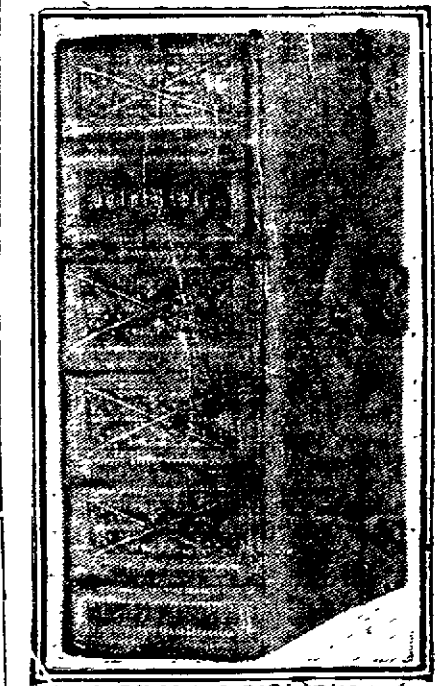

Georgetown, Ky., Dec. 14.—A card was found yesterday morning in one of the tobacco barns on the farm of Perry Cahall, notifying him not to attempt to have his tobacco delivered to the trust warehouses, to whom he had sold it. Cahall is said to have sold 50,000 pounds to the trust.

SAYS HE DIDN'T TAKE A CENT.

Springfield, Dec. 14.—The climax of the second trial for embezzlement of Charles C. Bauer, former city auditor, was reached Friday afternoon, when the defendant was placed on the stand. Bauer was greatly affected and came near breaking down when he said that not one cent of the city's money had ever been appropriated to his own use. He said that he assumed the office of city clerk wholly without experience and that the condition of the books was very bad, everything having been thrown into confusion by the operation of the new municipal code.

W. C. T. U. LEADER UNDER ARREST AS INCENDIARY

Norwalk, O., Dec. 14.—Mrs. Martha A. Campbell, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, superintendent of the Congregational Sunday school at Sandusky, and wife of a wealthy Greenfield township farmer, was arrested Friday in Sandusky on a secret indictment charging incendiarism.

The indictment charges that Mrs. Campbell burned a dwelling owned by Miss Lea Mather, a neighbor, in October. Miss Mather also has been indicted. The fire insurance company asserts the women formed a plot by which Miss Mather was to make the insurance money pay off the mortgage on her home, and on that condition, Mrs. Campbell would burn the place. The two women are out on bonds. It is said that Mrs. Mather confessed soon after the fire. Mrs. Campbell is the mother-in-law of R. B. Fisher, a prominent attorney of Sandusky.

DARROW'S EFFORTS TO TRAP ORCHARD NOT SUCCESSFUL

Boise, Idaho, Dec. 14.—Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney who is conducting the defense of George M. Pettibone, had Harry Orchard, the state's chief witness, on the rack for two hours and a half Friday, endeavoring to discredit his testimony. The cross-examination was rigid and Orchard was pictured as an inhuman monster, a murderer, bigamist, perjurer, gambler, thief and incendiary. Darrow made little attempt to make the witness contradict himself.

Only twice during the day did Darrow try to confuse Orchard in regard to his testimony and each time he failed. Reading from the testimony of the Haywood trial Darrow endeavored to make it appear that the witness had changed his statements, but Orchard forced his questioner to read more of his testimony, given before, showing that his testimony had been the same at both trials. Darrow laid particular emphasis on the fact that Orchard was a criminal before he became acquainted with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone.

After his cross-examination on each of Orchard's crimes before his trip to Denver in 1903, Darrow asked: "Did you know Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone?"

Each time the witness answered: "No."

At the afternoon session the cross-examination of Orchard by Mr. Darrow was continued.

"When do you expect to be tried?" asked Darrow.

"I don't know," was the answer.

"Do you expect to be tried at all?" "Yes, sir."

"Is your case pending on a plea of not guilty?"

"I never pleaded not guilty; I never pleaded at all."

Mr. Darrow took up the gambling career of Orchard and then showed that the Hercules mine, in which Orchard had once owned a sixth interest, is now worth several million dollars.

HEROIC DOCTORS RISK THEIR LIVES TO SAVE FIREMEN

New York, Dec. 14.—The novel sight of a score of physicians imperiling their lives to rescue firemen from a burning building was presented in East Eighteenth street, Friday night when one of the six buildings of the Huyler candy manufactory was filled with deadly gases, generated in some way by a fire which started among a pile of paper boxes. Fifteen fire fighters were overcome and of these three are in a critical condition. The fire broke out on the tenth floor and the first firemen to reach the scene dropped senseless. The building quickly filled with smoke and at first it was supposed that the firemen had been suffocated by smoke. This theory was upset on the arrival of a corps of emergency hospital physicians, who recognized the presence of a noxious gas.

The firemen succumbed so rapidly that their mates could not remove all, and then the physicians took hold, half carrying, half dragging the senseless men from the building. Several of the doctors were themselves overcome and in turn were rescued by others.

When the fire started 50 employees were in the building but it is thought that all escaped.

RAN FOR THEIR LIVES WHEN WELL LET GO

Two Drillers Badly Burned When Spark Ignites Vapor, at Well Owned in Columbus.

Mt. Vernon, Dec. 14.—While the big gas well owned by the Columbus Central company and located on the David Jaggas farm, near Lock, was being tided, the gas was accidentally ignited. Some one probably had dropped a match, which was stepped upon.

The derrick was crowded with men and when the explosion took place, Charles DeVore, Ernest Byers, Frank Nicholson and Ed McMillen, the drillers, were at work, surrounded by a dozen farmers as spectators. The force of the explosion sent the men rolling head over heels out into the open. McMillen and Byers were badly burned, but the others escaped with severe bruises. The derrick caught fire but was extinguished after half an hour.

The well is one of the largest in the part of Ohio having a pressure of eight million feet of gas.

MISTRESS MARY

By Temple Bailey

Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.

"Don't you ever get discouraged?" he asked. "How does your garden grow?" asked the young man who leaned over the fence.

"Oh, dear," little Miss Mary told him, "look at it."

There had been eight neat little plots laid out in the empty city lot. Miss Mary, the settlement worker from across the way, had brought her little girls over, and they had dug and planted and trained, and yesterday there had been beans climbing sturdily up the poles, and tomatoes already blossoming, and parsley and lettuce ready for salad, and radishes.

"And now look at it," said Miss Mary again.

It was trampled and torn and the little plants lay in the dust.

"The neighbors' boys did it," Miss Mary said, "your boys."

"Are you sure?" asked the young man.

"Yes," Miss Mary said; "one of my little girls saw them."

"They are a bad lot," said the young man, with a stern setting of his lips.

"I am afraid I shall have to give them up."

"Oh, don't," said little Miss Mary; "they need you all the more because they are bad. Don't give them up."

He smiled at her. "Don't you ever get discouraged?" he asked.

"Sometimes," she admitted, "when things like this happen, and her hand swept out toward the ruined garden. "We had planned to pick the lettuce this morning, and we were going to have it for lunch with our bread and butter."

"I tell you," said the young man, whose name was Oswald Gunning, "I'll make the boys give the little girls a treat. It's better than punishing them, and, what's more, I'll make them come over with it."

"Do you think they'll do it?" asked Miss Mary, interested.

"Yes, I'll tell them how disappointed you are in them. They won't care what the little girls think, but they are awfully fond of you, Miss Mary."

"Oh," said little Miss Mary, with a blush.

"They show their good taste," said the young man earnestly. "I am awfully fond of you myself."

"You mustn't talk such things to me," said little Miss Mary, but her eyes sparkled.

"Miss Mary, quite contrary. How does your garden grow?"

"DON'T YOU EVER GET DISCOURAGED?" HE ASKED.

sheepishly. "Here I have spent my time upon you, and all I seem to have taught you is how to make a lot of little girls unhappy."

"Aw, gwan," protested Jim Dovesky from the front row.

"And you have made Miss Mary unhappy," said the teacher, with increasing earnestness, "and she was crying when I got there this morning—crying over that poor little garden."

"Aw, gwan," murmured Jim again, and there were other apologetic murmurs from the background.

"It seems to me," Gunning told them, and watched the effect of his words, he sang under his breath, and then he said:

"I shall say it whenever I like, for it's true. I am very fond of you—very, very fond."

"The little girls are coming," said Miss Mary severely, "and you'd better go."

So, still singing under his breath, he went to the public playgrounds to meet his class in physical training.

"I am ashamed of you," he told them a little later as they sat before him

"that we ought to make it up to them somehow."

He had the boys there. They had expected punishment, and now he proposed restitution. It took their fancy at once.

"Sure," came the hearty chorus.

"We can't make the little garden grow," said their teacher, "we can't bring life to the little dead plants, and that's a pity, too, but we can let the little girls know that we are sorry. They were going to pick the lettuce today and have it with their bread and butter for lunch, and you know there isn't anything nicer than vegetables from your own garden."

There were various proposals, but Jim Dovesky's was the most popular.

"Let's buy thirty little pies, and each girl will have one for her lunch."

With visions of indigestion, Gunning protested, but the idea took like wildfire.

There was a hasty pooling of finances, and a delegation of boys started to the nearest bakery.

"I tried to switch them off to berries or ice cream," Gunning explained later to Miss Mary, "but I couldn't. And it's the idea, not the article."

"Yes," Miss Mary agreed. She was standing in the middle of the ruined garden, with the little girls digging in the eight little beds. "It's nice of them, and I only hope the little girls won't be ill."

Her voice was tired, and she looked warm and weary.

"Poor little Mistress Mary," said Gunning, looking down at her. "Has it been a hard morning?"

"The girls nearly cried their eyes out," she said. "They went on my shoulder in bunches, and it was wearing."

"I wish you would weep on my shoulder," said the impertinent young man. "It would help you a lot and I should like it immensely," and when she reproved him he went away singing:

"Miss Mary, quite contrary. How does your garden grow?"

which of late had become a most popular song with him.

At noon the boys marched into the settlement house with the pies, and Jim Dovesky made the speech of presentation.

"It's a peace offerin'," he said with a flourish; "git on to it!"

And the little girls, round eyed and forgiving, divided their bread and butter and divided the little pies and made the boys stay to lunch.

"Which spoils the lesson, but settles things up nicely," said Gunning. "According to all laws the boys should have suffered. As it is, I am the only one who suffers."

Miss Mary stared at him. "You?" was her startled question.

"What do I get out of it?" he demanded.

"What do you want?" she asked, innocently enough, but her swift blush betrayed her.

"I want—you," was his bold statement.

She shook her head, but before she could open her lips he begged, "Don't be contrary, Mary."

And she laughed at that, tremulously, and after a little she said, "I won't."

Any quick movement was followed by sharp darting twinges that caught me suddenly and almost doubled me up. I suffered so from pains through the hips that at times I was almost laid up. Liniments and hot applications had little effect on it and I began using various medicines recommended for such troubles. I had little success until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. It was the only remedy that really found the right spot. It banished my troubles in time, and I have had no return of any symptom of kidney complaint since using it."

GERMAN M. O. THEORY

Public Utilities Operated by Cities Must Pay Their Way.

They Don't Always Do This However Because Not Enough is Charged Off to Depreciation and the Plants Don't Have to Pay Taxes—"Undertakings" Limited to Localities Where the Patronage Will Be Large.

In theory public utilities operated by German cities must pay their own way. This theory is not, however, fully borne out in practice, because the allowance for depreciation is frequently inadequate, and the plants are not required to make good the taxes formerly paid by the companies they superseded. But the effort to put these services on a paying basis has resulted in limiting the various undertakings to districts where they are sure to pay. On the other hand, when these utilities are operated by companies the same restrictive results are noticed, because almost without exception the franchises are so weighted down with provisions for payments to the city and are at the same time of such short duration that the companies would not be warranted in extending the service beyond the districts in which they are sure to pay at once.

Professor Hugo R. Meyer in recent articles in the Electrical Railway Review and the Journal of Political Economy describes the results of this restrictive policy on street railways and electric lighting, and the following facts are taken from his articles:

The cities that went into the street railway business adopted a uniform fare of 2.5 cents, but with two exceptions abandoned this after short trials. The experience of two typical German cities will prove of interest as showing what high rates are charged when cities attempt to operate utilities on a paying basis.

When the city of Cologne took over the street railways the fares charged were 2.5 cents for distances up to 1.5 miles and 3.75 cents for the maximum distance, 6.9 miles. After operating them awhile the city authorities raised the fare materially while extending slightly the minimum stage. The present charges are 2.5 cents for 1.5 miles, 3.75 cents for 3.75 miles, 5 cents for 5.03 miles and 6.25 cents for distances over 6.93 miles.

The city of Dusseldorf, which acquired its street railways in 1900, attempted to operate them at the uniform fare of 2.5 cents, which had been charged by the street railway company, but soon found this was losing money and limited the 2.5 cent fare to 2.4 miles, charging 3.75 cents for distances between that and 4.25 miles. After increasing the track mileage the city again raised the fare considerably, reducing the minimum stage. The prices now charged are 2.5 cents for 1.56 miles, 3.75 cents for 3.19 miles, 5 cents for 4 miles, 6.25 cents for 4.75 miles, 7.5 cents for 6.38 miles, 8.75 cents for 7.19 miles and 10 cents for 7.91 miles.

It should be borne in mind that these prices are really very much higher than corresponding rates would be in this country, because wages in Germany are much lower than in the United States. The exorbitance of these charges is shown by the fact that in Minneapolis, a city of the same size as Dusseldorf, a passenger can ride thirteen miles for 5 cents, while in Buffalo, which has a population about equal to that of Cologne, the passenger gets fourteen miles for a nickel.

The desire of the cities to make all possible profits out of franchises and to limit them to short terms has resulted in greatly delaying the development of public electric lighting, although the people were anxious to have the new lights installed. This is shown by the fact that in 1891-95 there were in operation in factories, stores, etc., more than 4,776 private electric light plants, although two years later there were only a little more than 200 central electric lighting stations in the whole of Germany. As the private or isolated plant, as it is called in this country, is far less economical than the central station, this restrictive action of the German cities has thrown a great burden of cost on its progressive citizens. The situation is the more remarkable because at the time of the introduction of electricity for lighting and traction purposes Germany was far better equipped to perfect and develop these systems than was the United States, yet it has been completely outstripped by our own country, chiefly if not solely because here private enterprise has been given a comparatively free hand.

In closing one of his articles Professor Meyer says:

"The unwillingness of the cities to suffer financial losses on behalf of the congested city populations after those cities had denied those congested populations relief at the hands of profit seeking companies is in instructive contrast to the eagerness with which the advocates of purchase by the cities had denounced the dividend seeking companies."

U. hall, West Main street. The members are all requested to invite their friends as there will be presents for all that come. It will also be arranged that any of the members or their friends wishing to make special presents can do so by bringing the packages on the afternoon, so they can be properly marked. The committee requests those wishing to take part in the entertainment please bring in the name and subject on Wednesday evening, December 18.

The members should be present at next regular home meeting so that all will have a better understanding and assist in completing the program. The committee will be pleased to have a good number of the young folks prepare a recitation, speech, dialogue, vocal or instrumental music, and report next Wednesday evening.

Royal Neighbors.

The Royal Neighbors will hold their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, December 26, at 2 o'clock, instead of Christmas night.

Modern Woodmen.

Cedar Camp, No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, met in regular session on Monday night with all officers and 176 of the members present. It was one of the best meetings that have been had for some time. Fourteen applications for membership were presented, balloted upon and elected. The escort retired and found in waiting Julian J. Long, Edward Mayer, F. T. Wollard, E. E. Cartnal, John W. Smumons, G. E. Cullison, Harry Larsham and Christ Marins for benevolent membership, and Mack Mossman, C. M. Provin and James Severance for social membership. The ceremony of adoption was put on in good shape by the officers and team, and was very gratifying to the members present. The committee on resolutions on the death of Neighbor Fitzgerald made their report and the resolutions were adopted. Several good speeches were made by the neighbors and were heartily applauded. The committee appointed to make arrangements as to the date for the turkey supper. Neighbors, if you are not in on his turkey supper, you should get a hustle on yourself and endeavor to secure a candidate, as you have all of the month of December yet to work on. At the last meeting there were about a dozen of the members of Cedar Camp who live at Frazesburg, Ohio, at the meeting, and were very much pleased with the work. On the night of January 6, 1908, Cedar Camp will with all the other camps over the entire jurisdiction, celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Modern Woodmen of America. All the camps in Licking county are invited and a big county class will be adopted. After the regular business of the camp was over all retired to the banquet room where the committee had prepared an oyster stew. Neighbors, come to the next meeting of the camp and bring a prospect with you, and we will show you a good time as there is something doing every meeting night.

Resolutions of Respect.

At the regular meeting of Cedar Camp, No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, held on Monday night, December 9, 1907, the following resolutions were read and adopted:

To the officers and members of Cedar Camp, No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, we the undersigned committee, beg leave to offer the following:

Whereas, It has pleased the Council of the universe to remove from our midst by death, our Neighbor, John Fitzgerald, who died November 28, 1907, in the evening time of his life, and yet while the setting sun of his existence, illuminated by the beauty of his character, presented a picture worthy of our emulation, and,

Whereas, not only Cedar Camp, No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, the order of which he was an honored member, have sustained a great loss, but the community in which he lived and all persons with whom he came in contact, have felt the loss of this beautiful character. Therefore, be it resolved, that in the death of our beloved Neighbor, John Fitzgerald, we the members of Cedar Camp, No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, have lost a good and faithful neighbor, the association of a most noble character, and a friend in the time of need and one whose place in the order will be difficult to fill.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions of respect be spread upon the records of this camp, a copy presented to the family of the deceased, and be published in the daily papers. Fraternally submitted,

R. R. JONES,
J. W. HORNER,
E. B. PRATT,
Committee.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, Dec. 14.—Dr. Thomas E. Green, the well known lecturer, delivered a most entertaining and intelligent lecture in the Opera House Friday evening under the auspices of the Granville Lecture Course Association. This was the second of the entertainments given by the association. The next number will be a lecture by Judge B. Lindsey on January 25, 1908. The subject of Dr. Green's lecture was "The Key to the Twentieth Century," which was handled in a most intelligent and fascinating manner. There was not a moment when his listeners were not either intense in the listening or bubbling over with laughter. Dr. Green showed great capacity of memory and seemed to have at all times those things which would interest his listeners most. He worked up to his conclusion with no difficulty whatever. The lecture covered some two hours and a quarter and at the end the audience seemed as fresh as at the start. On leaving the house several persons were heard to remark that "the lecture of Dr. Green was the best they had ever listened to."

Friday night the Philomathean Literary society held its preliminary for the declaration for its annual contest with Enterte. Much interest was shown and many young ladies contested. Miss Gladys Clay was chosen Dickinson was a close second. The to represent her society, and Miss Orga contest is to take place in January. John Hollister over the body of Granville by Dr. Cook, Barnes, Follett and Dr. Mitchell of Newark, who gave the verdict that death was due to softening of the brain. The deceased was born in Pennsylvania in 1858, but when very young moved to Crooksville. He has lived in Granville for one year. He married twice, Mrs. Sarah Rexrothe being his first wife, while his second wife was Mrs. Sarah Lyons of Roseville, whom he married two years ago. He was a paper hanger by trade, but lately had been working on the gas line. He also was a member of the Junior Order American Mechanics. The funeral took place from his late home on Granger street, the Rev. W. H. Miller officiating, and the interment was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

The regular meeting of the Denison Scientific Association was held in the Physics recitation room of Science Hall Thursday afternoon. The splendid lecture of Prof. Carney was illustrated with lantern slides.

Carl Duer and Victor H. Hoppe of the Sophomore class have been elected business manager and editor-in-chief respectively of the 1909 Adytum. Miss Mary Eldridge has been visiting friends in the village. After a pleasant visit with friends in the village Miss Mame Mason has returned to her home in Bucyrus.

Saturday evening the Kappa Phi sorority entertained in its chapter house the new girls of Shepardon. Miss Sue Weddell of Cleveland is the guest of Miss Margaret McKibben.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased, the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 at F. D. A JUNGLE CATASTROPE: HOW DAME ELEPHANT WAS FORCED TO BUY

MR. SLATE MEETS A KNOWING COP

THE TALE OF A SLEEPING CHINK AND A SMALL BOY

THE fashion for over-blouse dresses, completed by guimpes, is a most charming one, and so becoming and youthful that it bids fair to continue in popularity for some time. The costume shown is very attractive and especially suited to home making. The waist is made with the fashionable kimono sleeve, and two deep tucks at the shoulders add to the becomingness of the mode. The skirt is one of unusual grace. It is a new four-gored model held in an inverted box-pleat at each seam. Broadcloth in a rich shade of blue, trimmed with black braid is represented, but any of the seasonable suitings may be used, such as serge, mohair, voile and cashmere. For 36 inches bust measure, 1 1/4 yards of 44-inch material will be required for the waist and 4 1/4 yards for the skirt.

Ladies' Blouse, with kimono sleeve. No. 5886. Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inch bust measure.

Ladies' Skirt. No. 5961. Sizes for 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure.

The attractive bath robe model here illustrated is just such a garment as every woman needs. It is built upon the most graceful lines, and is not only comfortable but becoming as well. It would also serve as a lounging robe. The fronts lap broadly and the wide collar that outlines the neck, lends style to the garment. If preferred, the fullness may be held in place by a cord tied around the waist. As represented, elderdown was used for the making, the edges bound with satin ribbon, but several materials are adaptable, such as Turkish toweling, flannel and cashmere. For 36 inches bust measure 8 yards of 36-inch material will be required.

Ladies' Bath Robe. No. 5953. Sizes for 32, 36, 40 and 44 inches bust measure.

The dainty nightgown shown in the illustration, is a particularly charming model made to slip on over the head. Batiste adorned with narrow Valenciennes lace was chosen for the development. The neck is cut in square outline, and the deep yoke affords an excellent place for a bit of hand embroidery, so much employed in the making of fine underwear. The sleeves are in the fashionable bell-shape, reaching to the elbow. Cambric, longcloth, nainsook and muslin are all desirable materials to use, with lace and ribbon-run beading for the decoration. For 36 inch bust measure 6 1/4 yards of 36-inch material will be required.

Ladies' Nightgown. No. 5908. Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

No article of apparel is more useful to the busy housewife or the daughter of the house than a big protective apron that is easily slipped on and off. The model shown is attractive and has the added merit of being easily and quickly made. Blue and white dotted percale was used for the making, but the design is equally suitable for cambric, linen, gingham and Holland. If preferred, a bias ruffle may trim the lower edge, or any preferred mode of decoration be adopted if a more elaborate effect is desired. The medium size will require 2 yards of 36-inch material.

Ladies' Apron. No. 5908. Sizes for small, medium and large.

Patterns will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents each, by Marjorie Dane, 43 West Thirty-fourth street, New York City.

A New Clothesline Fastener

RICHARD WYLIE, the inventor of this clothesline pin, says its grip is entirely automatic and that the more heavily the line is loaded the more firmly will it hold. The clothes to be held by the fastener are placed over the wire and the strip pushed longitudinally with the wire, so that the clothes will catch between the line and the groove of the strip, and the clothes are frictionally held by portions thereof being disposed intermediate the line and sides of the groove, thereby securely holding the same in place. As the weight on the line increases the latter will sag down and cause the device to clamp more securely the clothes at each end of the grooved piece. When it is desired to release the fastener the same may be pushed along the line, thereby freeing the clothes from the frictional grip.

A FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

AT no time is the friendly neighbor more popular or more appreciated than when a near-by resident is ill or otherwise in trouble. Then it is important to show the true generosity of your nature by the skill and thoughtfulness with which you promptly offer assistance. For no matter whether you are on the calling list of your neighbor or not, whether you like him or not, or whether you regard him as a justly afflicted person or the reverse, do not be restrained from giving him both your help and your sympathy in his hour of need.

Do not make your attempt to aid or comfort in any but the heartiest and most practical fashion, and do not hold back because you have a fear that you may be intruding, or that your attentions may not be needed. There are very well-intentioned people who are scrupulously careful to call formally at the door of a near resident and say: "Is there anything I can do?" or, "if you need help please remember that I am quite at your service," or they will send a servant with a polite message and conclude that thus their whole duty has been accomplished. And so it has been, after a fashion. But of such a mere civility afflicted persons are not apt to take any advantage, whereas they will probably feel genuinely grateful and really helped if you begin by showing them at once some small but appreciable attention. My advice is, then, not to begin by asking if there is anything you can do, but by actually doing something to show your goodwill and your desire to be of service.

When there is illness in the family of your nearest neighbors, for example, make your first pilgrimage to their door bearing something in your hand that might be of use. I have seen this course advantageously pursued by one who was a popular neighbor because he knew how to meet an emergency with real assistance as well as sympathy. When he went to make inquiries he was so thoughtful as to suggest some little favor that he could do, and then he went on an errand, or brought a dish of broth or loaned some convenience with a heartiness that taught the neighbors to look upon him as a strong arm of true aid in times of trouble.

DO NOT INTERRUPT

GIVE leave, if humanly possible, to every one who addresses you, to say out his say completely. This is something more than a matter of minor importance; and while you attend do not wear an expression of eagerness and with ill-concealed impatience waiting for an opportunity to escape from your companion's company or for a chance to break into words yourself.

No excuse can be accepted for such rudeness. Others may be clamoring for your attention, and the twice-told tale may be uninteresting indeed, but the obligation still rests upon you to give Mr. Blank your first and most exclusive, your amiable and most undisturbed hearing.

I have seen a hostess calmly disregard the demands of several newly arrived callers because her attention had been claimed by a gentle old dowager, who halted inconsiderately just in the drawing-room doorway in order to give, at great length, the exactest account of the state of her health.

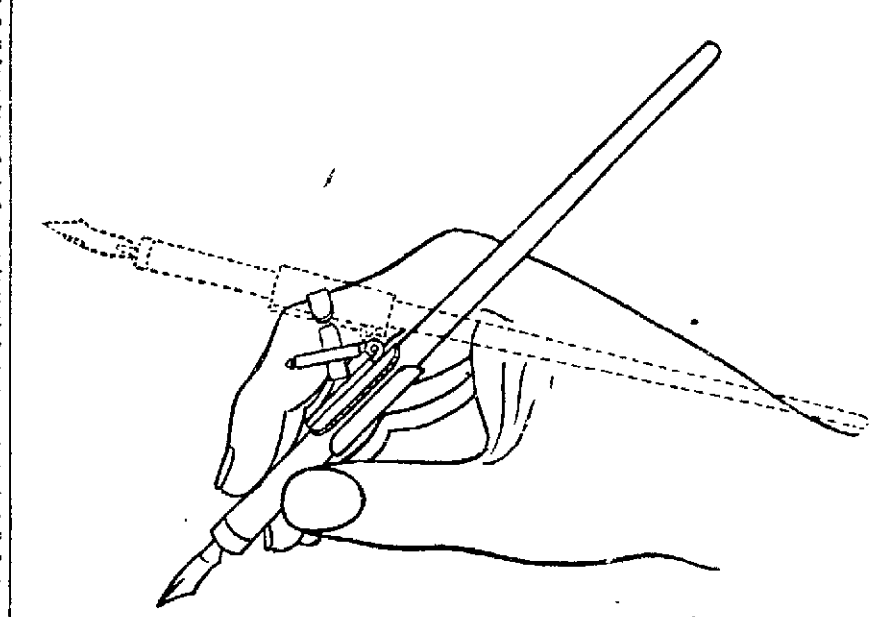

Quite to the end of this recital did the younger woman intently heed every word that fell from the lips of her prolix visitor. When an impatient guest attempted to intrude upon the narration of rheumatic details, the hostess calmly put her hand upon the bold one's sleeve and held her in check until the old lady's woes were all confessed and the routine of receiving could be resumed. So tactful and gracious was she through it all that, though this was but a trifling act in itself, it did honor to the woman who so perfectly fulfilled her duty, and it gave me the clue to the means whereby she had been able to find a widespread popularity without the assistance of wealth or the endowment of beauty.

Her tallismen to success is easy to explain, for she is one of those discreet and good-natured souls who always remember the small courtesies of conversation.

A SEASHORE ADVANTAGE.

Edith is one of the children in a household where Sabbath observances are of the old school type of severity. "I shall always stay here," she declared at the close of her second day at the beach, "because they don't put the sea away on Sunday."

Pen Holder Device

This holder device has been patented by Albert L. Hatfield. When placed on the finger the pen is in position for instant use, whether clasped between the fingers or not, and permits the free use of all fingers (except the index finger). The device has also an eccentric action by which the pen can be placed on the back of the hand, ink up, should the writer wish to use a lead pencil, etc. Those using a pen several hours a day can more readily appreciate this feature of the device, particularly when loss of time—laying down, picking up, pointing the pen correctly, likewise avoiding the unsanitary use of ear, hair or mouth—is taken into consideration. As an instructor. The attachment points the pen directly over the knuckles and shoulder, and prevents the writer from cramping the fingers or holding the pen in any but the correct position.

The Pleasant Speaking Voice

IF you stop to realize that the most glorious music ever written loses its beauty when played upon a harsh and tuneless instrument, then you can appreciate how your best phrases, when spoken in a nasal, undisciplined voice actually hurt the ears of your hearer. No less famous person than Demosthenes appreciated that his ideas could never hold the attention of any audience if he expressed them in sharp and strident tones. Consequently that greatest of all orators gave the most earnest and patient attention to the mastery of his naturally unmusical voice before he attempted to speak to the Athenian people, and, in a small way, it is quite easy for anyone to do just what Demosthenes did. The way to give smoothness and sweetness to a high, harsh voice is to use the simple device of persistently speaking one whole octave lower than that which is ordinarily and carelessly employed.

error by pausing occasionally to listen to yourself. Break off quite abruptly now and then, in the midst of a sentence, and you will probably be shocked to find how loudly the echoes of your own words ring in your own ears. If you strain your throat and force your voice, you are making merely to announce that the weather is excellent or the perfume When you have this experience, and or twice the time, speak that low, steady, calm, and your voice will not feel strained to speak low, but will seem a thing of its own accord, rich, sympathetic tone. To escape from the serious fall into the way of making the pace at which you speak.

The Well Written Letter

THE average missive is neither a thing of beauty nor a joy to its recipient, and I do not exaggerate when I say that a clear, tidy chirography, like a carefully made toilet and a sweet, modulated voice, possesses a charm of its own. To receive a note that is absolutely correct in all its make-up, that is distinct, well punctuated and written in simple, grammatical language; that is dated, signed, sealed and addressed with exquisite care, is to receive a very pleasant impression of its author.

I am not unique in preferring the perusal of such a note to the many recklessly composed, commaless, mispelled, crookedly stamped missives that make up the bulk of a morning's mail. Out of the budget that the postman brings I always read first, and with the greatest joy, what I call "the nice notes." These are the communications that have an agreeable appearance, that the easy to read, and that lead me to believe that whether I know their authors or not I am safe in guessing them to be gentlemen and ladies.

I think I advance no new or strange ideas when I say that it is easy, in the mere technique of note-making, to show beautiful refinement and graceful unselfishness, and that the prime charm in a handwriting lies in its distinctness. Spare no effort in order to teach yourself how to write legibly. Be advised to your advantage and do not adopt a big, irregular hand. If you try thus to display character and individuality you really only succeed in betraying carelessness and affectation and an entire disregard for the comfort of others. The most delightful chirography is rather small than large, it is produced by a pen that moves quite deliberately, and though the characters may seem a little stiff and commonplace in form, they are always most attractive when they succeed in conveying the meaning of the sentences promptly and clearly.

If they do not do this much they are a true weariness to the flesh; and sometimes I have known big, dashing and picturesque handwritings to prove so illegible that they gave rise to mistakes of a very grave nature and to little misinterpretations that led later to small quarrels.

Always have a keen eye to the business of composing your sentences nicely, so that their meaning will be grasped in an instant. Dot every "I," cross every "t," and be heedful in the matter of dates and address.

Copy a note five times, if need be, or until it seems free of faults; do not be too hurried or haughty or indolent to take so much trouble, and do not send out a note blemished with erasures. Persons of great social experience and high literary ability I have known to rewrite their notes patiently and persistently until all had been made as perfect as possible. They imitated the good example of Bret Harte, who invariably took as much care when writing a note to his tailor as when corresponding with a ducal acquaintance.

Tige--Teddy Bear's Rival

A NEW toy has appeared this season that has taken the childish heart by storm, and shares honors with the popular Teddy Bear. It is quite possible for every little boy and girl to possess one of these much loved play fellows, as by following directions given with the pattern "Tige" may easily be made. Bearskin cloth is used for the making, and the legs are joined to the body by cardboard discs fastened with wire or hair pins, to make these members move like the real Tiges. Shoe buttons will serve nicely for eyes, while the mouth may be simulated by a few stitches taken with black thread. Excelsior, cotton, hair and sawdust are all used for stuffing. The pattern comes in one size, eight inches, and 1/4 yard of 34-inch material will be required for the making.

"Tige" No. 5944. One size. Eight inches.

Pattern will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents each, by Marjorie Dane, 43 West Thirty-fourth street, New York City.

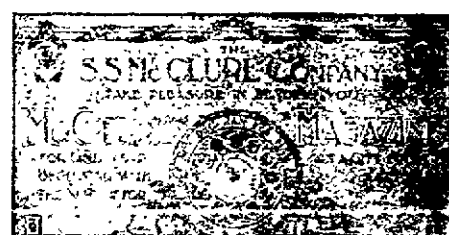

To avoid delay, do not fail to state size of pattern desired, and be sure to write name and address plainly.
